CHILD KILLERS: JUSTICE NOW!

HANG THESE SCUM

TEN-YEAR OLD Nicola Fellows and her nine-year-old friend Karen Hadaway went out early on a Thursday evening to their local chip shop in the quiet seaside resort of Brighton. They were never seen alive again and their bodies were found 24 hours later in Wild Park, a local beauty spot.

The two young girls were just the latest tragic victims in a long series of disgusting child murders to have shocked the British public. Sadly, the last few years have seen a frightening rise in the frequency of such sickening crimes. Now scarcely a week goes by without news of yet another tiny innocent becoming the latest statistic in the growing wave of sex-related child murder.

Hundreds of thousands of parents are now scared to allow their children out alone, particularly after dark. The basic right to walk without fear through their own streets is being denied to literally millions of decent British people.

DEATH PENALTY

Opinion poll after opinion poll has shown that at least 90% of the population believe that the death penalty should be restored for murderers and the pushers of hard drugs. And the figures in favour of hanging child killers are even higher.

In a local poll of 239 people in Worthing, Sussex at the start of September - before the murder of Nicola and Karen - all except all of those questioned called for the return of the rope for these vile scum. After their brutal murder, there were open threats of a lynch mob operating on the girls' estate if local people caught the killer before the police.

Yet in spite of such continual displays of public concern over this issue, the Tory, Alliance and Labour parties have joined together to ignore the wishes of the vast majority of the British people and to protect the murderers from their just deserts. As a result, many vicious killers walk free after just a few years in prison, while the families of their victims have to face a lifetime of anguish and grief.

VAST MAJORITY

This System claims to be a democracy but ignores the wishes of the vast majority. And it is more concerned about the "rights" of perverted criminals than of their young victims. Such a System is totally corrupt and has ceased to serve the interests of the Nation - it must be changed.

Yet there is no point just complaining about it, what is needed is positive action to bring about the changes we all want. In this case that means that opponents of capital punishment for child murderers must not get re-elected and must not be allowed to raise their heads in public without facing a barrage of criticism. For if opponents of the death penalty do not get elected and cannot spread their liberal lies unopposed, then opponents of the restoration of the ultimate deterrent will become even less common than they are already.

Such a change cannot now help little Nicola or Karen, but it will help protect many more children of their age. That is why the National Front continues to call for the restoration of the death penalty for such murders. Let us protect the innocent - and HANG THE GUILTY!

TWO THREATS TO OUR CHILDREN

One of the greatest threats facing future generations of our folk is the dumping of radioactive waste. The government backed NIREX (Nuclear Industry Radioactive Waste Executive) is presently engaged in finding what it terms 'suitable' dumps for the radioactive waste that is accumulating all over Britain, in the nuclear power industry, in the nuclear weapons sphere, and in the nuclear research field.

RADIOACTIVE NIGHTMARES

A large proportion of this waste will be giving off harmful radiation in 300 years time and Nirex have estimated that these dumps could have a life span of 50 years. That is a total of 350 years of radioactive nightmares for our children, their children, and their children's children.

Nirex propose to dispose of the waste in two ways. The first is to cut crude, unlined trenches 20 feet deep, and to stack in them steel drums of relatively low level waste. The trenches will then be back filled with clay when full. The second method is for the more radioactive "intermediate" level wastes. To dispose of these wastes Nirex want to open deeper trenches and line them with concrete. When they are full they would be 'capped' with concrete and clay.

HORRIFIC

One of the most horrific aspects of this madness is that NIREX have admitted that they cannot be entirely sure about how safe these dumps would be. In fact what they are really saying, when you tear away the jargon language that they use, is that they are playing with lives of millions of unborn Britons; they are playing with the future of the British nation.

The choice of sites so far listed by NIREX are highly questionable. They have in mind: Fulbeck, Lincolnshire; Killingholme, Humberside; Bradwell, Essex and Elstow in Bedfordshire. Test drilling at three of the four sites began just over two weeks ago.

It is interesting to note that the Elstow site, for instance, contains over 120,000 people within a five mile radius. There are obviously many more isolated areas with claybeds as deep, if not deeper, than Elstow. In fact NIREX have stated that there are 400 possible sites on their list. Part of the answer could be that the Elstow site is actually owned by the Central Electricity Generating Board (CEGB). The CEGB is one of the major producers of nuclear waste in this country, and NIREX is partly commissioned by the CEGB.

PROFIT BEFORE PEOPLE

Once again it seems that another of the infinite examples of the Profit before People ethic has come to light. If the CEGB can save a few pounds in using a site that they already own for dumping, then they will. It doesn't matter that 120,000 people live within 5 miles of the site.

There are several options open to NIREX in the disposing of this evil waste, and it is interesting to note that shallow burial of this sort has been rejected by several European countries. Other options discussed include storage above ground, burial deep underground or burial beneath the sea bed; clearly these are far from either ideal options.

The most obvious solution to this nightmare is that which would begin the very first day that a National Revolutionary movement came to power: the production of nuclear waste would cease immediately and would, by stages, be jettisoned in outer space. NO TO NUCLEAR DUMPING! NO TO NUCLEAR POWER!

indoctrination

Perverts

BRITAIN'S children face the disgusting threat of an active campaign to turn them into homosexuals. In many parts of the country, children still at primary school are receiving sex education lessons designed to make perversion seem normal, acceptable and safe.

Outraged parents have found that children under six have been given lessons using vile textbooks such as The Playbook For Kids About Sex. In this sick book, the Jewish lesbian authoress tells her innocent young readers that some people chose a partner of the opposite sex and some people chose a partner of the same sex.

This gives the impression that homosexuality is as common as normal sex.

Then the book goes on to say that "some people" think that it is wrong, but that "many people think that people should be allowed to have sex with whoever they want, as long as the partner agrees. What do you think?" Having suggested that only a minority of bigots object to such behaviour, the book asks the children whether they agree with the nice majority rather than the nasty minority. This provides an ideal opportunity for pro-gay teachers to start a discussion in which to step up the indoctrination in perversion.

MOTIVES

The motives of teachers who are themselves homosexual are obvious, but their recruitment campaign has been greatly helped by various neo-Marxist groups, from the Socialist Workers' Party to the Labour Party. All the London boroughs controlled by Labour now operate a "positive discrimination" policy in favour of homosexuals, particularly in job recruitment. Labour-controlled education authorities are even worse, boasting about how they are promoting a "positive image" for homosexuals, "from the nursery through to Higher Education." How anyone can be so warped as to bring this kind of poison to toddlers is beyond belief, but the SWP has launched a major campaign in support of indoctrination by "gay" teachers.

The Reds' motives in this are all too clear: they see homosexuals as easy recruits and are also ideologically opposed to normal family life.

Nor is the Tory government blameless. Most of the groups which produce this propaganda are financed by the State. Even harmless sounding groups such as the government financed Family Planning Association are involved in the campaign. An FPA conference earlier this year was chaired by Black Labour Marxist Paul Boateng, who opened the meeting by saying that its purpose was "to discuss ways of bringing fundamental change to our society." The pro-abortion FPA has also gone out of its way to attack what it calls "AIDS hysteria" as being unfair to homosexuals.

UNHOLY ALLIANCE

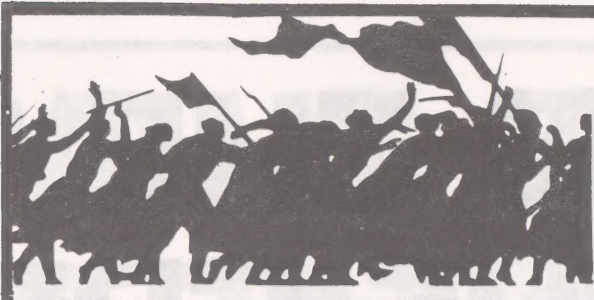

So the Tory government is helping to finance an unholy alliance of minority groups - Red, Black and Sick - who for their different reasons want to break up our traditional British family life. The resulting threat to our children must worry every parent and sicken every normal person.

But at last there are signs that the British majority are waking up and striking back. In Haringey and Brent, angry parents and older brothers have stormed into schools to seize and burn the offending textbooks. And as our picture shows, violent Red counter-demos have been dealt with as well.

If you have any information about teachers corrupting children in your area, pass the details on to your N.F. News seller or send them to us. The National Front will then take steps to show these creatures that they are not wanted.

FRONT LINE ACTION

Barking

The following report was written by the committee of the Barking unit.

AT THE START of this month members of Barking NF voted in favour of "dropping" Joe Pearce as their prospective Parliamentary candidate. This was done because Pearce insulted them by demanding that they support Anderson's tiny reactionary Fraction during his speech at a previous branch meeting.

However, as if to prove that Pearce could not destroy the morale of his former unit, the members of Barking have during recent weeks rallied to the Cause.

Our previous record of NF News sales (set two years ago at a West Ham F.C.) of £15.00 has been broken TWICE this month. Two weeks ago we raised £16; last week we smashed that record by raising £25 during a 1.5 hour stint! As a result our unit has doubled our order for NFN since it went fortnightly. Our door to door paper sales teams now canvass our target ward, Goresbrook, twice a week with very encouraging results.

Gumbria

IN CUMBRIA, the NF has been making a name for itself with some effective campaigning.

Over the last few months groups of active members have been springing up in many Cumbrian towns, due to the publicity received from a campaign against local Labour Party support for the marxists of the terrorist African National Congress.

The leaflet produced below led to a centre page article on the subject in a major local paper - the Evening News and Star.

This was followed shortly afterwards by a full page article/hatchet job on our Cumbrian Organizer. Unfortunately, the local hack Alan Air, got a bit carried away with his smear article and the public regarded it as being obviously fabricated.

Without a doubt, this led to great interest in what the movement really had to say, and also led to a great deal of spontaneous, unorganized activity throughout Cumbria.

The Cumbrian NF's sights are now firmly fixed on a full scale campaign against the horrific Sellafield/Windscale nuclear re-processing plant on the Cumbrian coast.

slowly burning them to death. Union-baited 'necklaces' (car tyres placed round the neck and set alight) THE LABOUR PARTY WILL ASK FOR YOUR VOTE AT THE NEXT GENERAL ELECTION - DON'T GIVE THEM IT!

Eric Martlew

It is ridiculous that, in a supposedly 'democratic' country, a political party can openly propagate terrorist propaganda and at the same time pretend to be 'democratic'.

Next time the Labour Party asks for your vote, while at the same time supporting the murder of women and children, tell them to get lost and vote them out of existence.

Havering

MEANWHILE Havering NF have extended their community campaigning to the Romford area. They are presently campaigning to get the council to provide greater lighting and fencing in Battis Way, a mugging black spot. Battis Way is a passage way frequently used as a short cut by nurses and patients, which connects Romford station to Waterloo Road, near Oldchurch hospital.

So far, the campaign has received encouraging results from local residents, who have been mobilized by cheaply produced, but neat and effective, leaflets dealing with the subject. See page 7.

Oldham

DESPITE ALL the harassment and trouble that Oldham NF have faced from various quarters in 1986, they remain undeterred and are continuing to fight for National Revolution.

On October 16th over 30 people turned up at the branch meeting to hear NF National Directorate member, Derek Holland, speak on the subject "What is the NF?". In part he stated: "The NF is not a political party in any conventional sense, it is far more. It is a movement and a way of life that demands sacrifice and struggle in the service of a Higher Ideal." An enthusiastic audience responded by generating an excellent collection.

The committee of the branch have been doing fine work this year recruiting heavily amongst Oldham's white, dispossessed youth. This has shown itself not only in good turnouts at branch meetings, but also in paper sales; the last issue of NF News completely sold out.

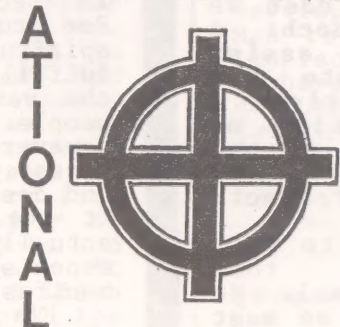

Now the branch are concentrating on raising £1,000 to fight Oldham in the next General Election. They have produced their own election fund raising card called The Third Way for Oldham and this has got the unit off to a great start. It is thanks to the dedication and hard work of the officers and members of this unit that Oldham people are being offered a genuine alternative to Establishment corruption and lies.

Blackpool

BLACKPOOL NF have also been pretty busy lately. They have produced a hard hitting and eye catching poster and sticker (see below), and also a Blackpool NF sticker along with stickers for NF units in Preston, Fleetwood and Lancaster.

During the Labour Party Conference in Blackpool at the end of September, hundreds of posters stating, "Soviet Union first, Britain last", appeared all over the town. The well produced posters which were printed in the authentic looking red and yellow colours of the Labour Party, and which bore the Red Flag logo which is used on Labour literature, raised a lot of smiles from local folk. Who said that politics was all hard work?

POSITIVE ACTION

THE main reports on page 2 detail two horrific threats that our children will have to face and overcome. Firstly, there is the daunting fight that must be waged against the dangers of nuclear radiation; secondly, there is the struggle against the homosexual disease AIDS.

Both these threats have grown in stature and influence because the State, for various reasons, has not summoned up the moral courage necessary to take strident and appropriate action. When it comes to nuclear radiation the State is confronted by the powerful vested interest of the nuclear power industry - and the State backs off. When it comes to dealing with the unrepresentative and vociferous queers lobby, which repels all normal, moral folk, the State backs off. The lily livered specimens who dominate the machinery of government are too decadent in themselves to stop the spread of decadence and corruption. Such people would rather see innocent men, women and children die of the terrible disease AIDS than be called "extremists" or "faggott bashers" by Fleet Street hacks.

POSITIVE ACTION

It is in such situations, when the State refuses to defend the interests of the majority, of the moral, that the People must act themselves to preserve the community. There is an urgent need and the time is opportune, for Positive Action to be taken to combat these evils. Every National Revolutionary must do all he can to start or strengthen initiatives in his area that have as their objective the elimination of these curses.

The threat of nuclear dumping has already generated tremendous opposition in many localities, but their effectiveness has been vitiated by lack of co-ordination and firm direction. Our task must be to transform such groups into a viable and militant opposition capable of winning Victories.

MAJORITY THREATENED

As far as the menace of AIDS is concerned we have to recognise that the majority are threatened by the activities of two groups: drug addicts and homosexuals. In the first case we must adopt a two-fold approach: a programme to rehabilitate and assist the poor devils tempted into the nightmare world of drug addiction; a policy of ruthless extermination of drug pushers, whether they be of the street variety, or those who as cityslickers are outwardly respectable.

In the second case we have to roll back the liberal dogma that homosexuality is somehow normal. We must repeal the Sodomy Act and we must suppress queer clubs, pubs and magazines. It is a fact of life that homosexuality will continue in a twilight world, but that is far more preferable than the current situation that provides this perversion with conditions for growth. Homosexuality is an abnormality, and it has no place in an organic nationalist society.

The future lies in the hands of our people. Will you act to ensure that their lives are free from the threat of nuclear radiation and the menace of AIDS? Or will you sit back until it is too late?

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Whenever possible hand correspondence for the NF, NF News or the Bookshops to your local contact, so that they can ensure it reaches us via the internal postal system. This is very important when dealing with orders, memberships or payments. If this is not possible ALWAYS use RECORDED DELIVERY.

This is the price we pay for combatting the corrupt state in the service of the Nation.

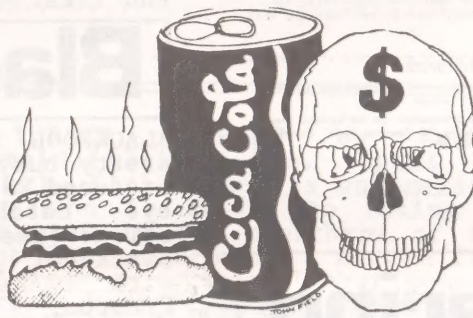

IN THE C THE GRE

CULTURE

BRITAIN IS being gripped in the claws of what the Iranian government has described as the Great Satan, that is to say the United States. The Washington state tyranny determines or controls much of what happens in this country by virtue of its influence with our "leaders" who are little more than American puppets.

There are numerous ways in which this foreign power holds sway over our lives, and, as National freedom fighters, we are committed to eliminating them. In this special feature we take a look at some of the more important aspects of the oppression wrought by the Great Satan.

A nation can only truly be said to exist if it is permeated by a living culture that embodies the Spirit and Traditions of a People. Any study of history will show that these islands were once the home of a number of vibrant, rich and diverse cultures. But they have given way, with the passing of time, to the evils of uniformity and the rise of the Coca-Cola culture.

The junk culture of the U.S. affects every area of our lives.

Our native way of life has been destroyed by an alien import that has no point of contact with our Past. The chief consequence has been that our people have lost any true sense of identity, of national integrity, of purpose.

COCA-COLA CULTURE

This Coca-Cola culture is, in fact, an anti-culture. For true culture is something spiritual, positive and fulfilling which brings out the very best features in a people. Coca-Cola culture, however, is characterized by crass materialism, nihilism and destructive individualism; it not only allows, but it actually encourages, the worst aspects of human nature to manifest themselves.

No community can survive when it is engulfed by an atmosphere which gives no thought to future generations, and treats fellow citizens as "enemies" in the "war" to obtain consumer goods.

WRETCHEDNESS

Those who have given themselves over to imposing the wretchedness of the Coca-Cola mentality on our people have adopted as their methods the techniques of subtlety and incessant repetition. In this way they avoid stirring people to react: each small cultural distortion has its impact, but it is not too blatant or far reaching at any given moment. The catalogue of the defeats suffered by our British and European cultures is tremendous, but here a few of the worst examples.

* Language is more than a means of communication, it is a reflection of the deepest feelings and thoughts of a national community. But our language is rapidly losing its expressiveness and is coming more and more to resemble the semi-literate language known as "American".

The constant screening of American TV programmes is causing our people to speak increasingly in this alien tongue - words like "street-wise", "hospitalized", "O.K." and "overly" are not part of the English language, but part of the Americanese that is spreading through many West European tongues.

* Our traditional forms of popular art - music and poetry - have all but disappeared. Few people these days seem to realize that folk music is not the product of bearded, scruffy communists, but the very soul of Europe. Now bland jingles and moronic disco beats have become the norm, subjecting us to a non-stop stream of American anti-culture.

JUNK FOOD

* There was a time when nations and regions had their own specialities in food, dishes that were enjoyed by ordinary folk. Now our food has become increasingly packed with chemical additives and artificial flavours and colourings, chemicals that are having a disastrous effect on the health of the population.

And alongside this there has been the mushrooming of plastic and tasteless chains of Wimpy, Macdonald and Kentucky Fried Chicken bars. In American dominated Britain, the aim is maximum profit from selling junk food to a junk people.

The process of cultural degeneration is continuing apace. As each generation passes, our links with our true past and traditions grow weaker, thereby threatening the very existence of our Nation.

This nation only has a future if we can lay the foundations of a cultural revolution that will cut out the cancer of U.S. cultural imperialism, and rebuild our sense of the past, of identity, of being European. The struggle to preserve our culture is not an airy-fairy abstraction, but the true focus of our National Revolutionary efforts.

The potentially deadly effects of this subservience were shown very clearly by Reagan's performance at the Reykjavik arms control talks. Even when the Russians added another concession by offering to cut their Asian based anti-Chinese and Japanese SS-20s from 513 to 100, he turned the offer down. As a result, both the Soviet Union and the United States each still have 1,300 short-range warheads in Europe.

PROVOCATIVE

The reason for the breakdown in the talks was Reagan's refusal to consider restrictions on his "Star Wars" programme. This project is a dangerously provocative breach of Article V. of the U.S./U.S.S.R. Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty, which bans the "development, testing or deployment" of such ABM weapons in space. The Yanks defend this breach of the treaty by trying to claim that it doesn't cover new technology which didn't exist when the agreement was signed in 1972!

Reagan believes that "Star Wars" will give America such strong defences against Soviet missiles that it would be possible to launch a massive nuclear strike against Russia without suffering any retaliation. And this is the bloodthirsty lunatic with his finger on the button of hundreds of nuclear missiles based in Britain!

He revealed that the Reagan administration had attempted, unsuccessfully this time, to deceive Colonel Gadhafl about the strength of opposition to his government inside Libya. The intention of this ruse was to plant the seeds of doubt in the Colonel's mind in such a way that it would hopefully lead to a purge of his supporters and close aides, thereby weakening the stability of the Revolutionary Command.

SECOND air raid. The aim was to provoke the Libyan leader into a pre-emptive strike against American or NATO military bases in Europe.

PRETEXT

If this had occurred it would have given the Yanks the necessary pretext for further murderous attacks on Libya. What must also be borne in mind is this: if Gadhafl had been a supporter of terrorism the front line in his retaliation would not have consisted of Reagan or Thatcher but of ordinary folk living near USAF bases - it would have been their pubs and clubs that were bombed. It would have been the British people who would have paid the price for Thatcher's "permission".

What should worry all patriotic elements in this country is that this grotesque interference by the Yanks is the rule not the exception. This example is very well known, but what goes on behind the scenes - which threatens the security of our people and undermines our national freedom - that we do not know about? If we must be involved in wars it must only involve threats to British interests and security. We are not prepared to fight for American political objectives nor get involved in their money grabbing inspired wars.

Teach Yourself

Nationalism

Nationalism is a word which is used frequently by political activists all over the world, yet its meaning seems to vary greatly from one country to another. For some, nationalism is just an extreme form of Conservatism; for others, it is all about military dictatorships; for yet others, it is a creed that promotes hatred of other peoples simply because they differ. The fact is that Nationalism is a greatly misunderstood view of the world simply because people claim they are nationalists, or are labelled as such, when in fact they are nothing of the sort. It is essential, therefore, that in the coming months, and years, National Revolutionaries completely clear up these misconceptions, not through talk but through action.

NOT "RIGHT-WING"

In many respects it is easier for the beginner to come to a crude understanding of organic nationalism by considering what Nationalism is NOT. It is widely believed that nationalism is "right wing", or that it supports the immoral capitalist system, sometimes called 'free enterprise' or Big Business. This is far from being the case. Revolutionary nationalism does not lay claim to part of the nation - ie the 'right wing' part - but to the entire nation. As a result it rejects the labels 'left' and 'right' as wholly inadequate, and indeed, anti-nationalist for such divisions divide the Nation against itself, and nationalism is clearly a philosophy that aims at national unity.

At the same time as saying Nationalism represents the entire People, and seeks to serve the temporal and spiritual welfare of the entire community, it also makes clear that this welfare is paramount and therefore stands above any sectional interest. Capitalism is a creed and economic system which proclaims that the Individual is more important than the community, and therefore such a person has a right to seek his own advantage even at the expense of the community. This is the very antithesis of nationalism which maintains that the Individual finds his highest temporal fulfillment within a vibrant community; the Common Good of All defines the true and objective interests of the Individual.

Nationalism is positively differentiated from creeds like Capitalism and Communism, which dominate the modern world to its detriment, by its intrinsic anti-materialist stance. Capitalism and Communism both see people as economic units whose whole existence is geared to serving the economic machine. It reduces Man to the mere level of an unfeeling, impersonal cog in a gigantic wheel going nowhere in particular. Thus revolutionary nationalism rejects this absurd view of Man; it maintains that society must be organized in such a way that it serves the real needs of the People first. Man exists not to serve the machine, but to elevate the soul and seek the development of his personality.

SPIRITUAL CREED

Nationalism is first and foremost a spiritual creed. Its whole world view rests on the belief that the spiritual spark in Man is of greater value than the purely material. That this is so is easily demonstrated, for all the things that motivates the man of real worth are at base spiritual: love of family; loyalty to the nation; an abiding sense of honour; commitment to honesty and Truth.

The materialist, who rejects such a view of the world, is a person who thinks that the meaning of life can be measured, or weighed, or contained in a test tube. If you cannot touch it or see it, it doesn't exist they argue. But for the Nationalist the sheer spirituality of our beliefs defy such a childish and shallow method. For us it is evident that our creed is felt in our hearts and in our souls. It is the beating of the drums, and the fluttering of the flag; it is the flickering of torchlight in the black night, and the blood red sun sinking on the horizon. These are feelings that stir the soul and call us to action in the defence of the Nation. It is a world of beauty and imagination. It is a world worthy of our endeavours, of our sacrifices. It is a struggle that brings redemption.

COMMUNITY ACTION

COMMUNITY ACTION seeks to help the National Front sink local roots. Indeed, we see this as a very small step along the road to establishing a whole series of NF Advice Centres throughout the British Isles.

We want to expose local council corruption and incompetence, fight closures of schools, factories and hospitals, and campaign for decent housing and social services for our people. We also carry lots of advice on what you are entitled to in the way of benefits and consumer rights etc., as the powers that be usually try to suppress such information.

We also wish to generate a climate of self-help and community pride and care which is sadly being attacked and destroyed.

If any NF News readers think that Community Action should focus on problems or initiatives in their area, or promote, give advice on, or help their campaigns, please contact us, and send us your community news and any press cuttings.

Self—Reliance! LIBERATE HOMES FOR THE PEOPLE

IN issue 79 of NFN, we outlined a 6 point plan for Ulster, which must be acted upon if the imperialisms of Westminster and Dublin are to be fought effectively. Point 6 of that plan was a call to rebuild our communities by renovating derelict houses and handing them over to homeless families and newly-weds.

The Shankill Road has some of the worst slums in Belfast, but 41 new homes are empty and vandalised because of a shooting incident which provoked the contractor to leave the job unfinished.

New homes are "urgently needed" in the area, according to the Housing Executive (the main housing authority in Ulster), but the 41 new homes in Crimea Street, on the Shankill, only needed painting to finish them before the walkout.

This situation is appalling, especially when you consider that in this particular area, housing district 5, there are 700 people on the waiting list. 200 of these are priority cases.

On Rathcoole, a massive Loyalist housing estate on the outskirts of Belfast, the Housing Executive's ludicrous letting policy has led to houses and flats being seriously wrecked by vandals.

A local councillor recently stated that the situation "has got to the stage where some houses are so badly damaged that other people in the block are going to have to move out".

The Housing Executive's farcical policy allows vacant homes to stand empty for up to four weeks, making them easy targets for vandals, and costing thousands of extra pounds to renovate.

This disgusting situation must not continue. The Housing Executive is a bureaucratic and time-wasting authority. The only way that decent housing will be provided for our people is if we actually renovate it ourselves and hand it to our people. These homes must be liberated from both the vandals and the State controlled Housing Executive. The Ulster NF must lead the way on this vital project if our people are to be taught self-reliance.

We demand new homes, not slums.

Have you a gripe about your local council? Is your local school, factory or hospital being closed down? Do you live in bad housing conditions? Then contact your local NF Organiser, NF News papersellers, or Community Action, and we'll fight on your behalf. (Please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope for a reply).

Campaigning

FOR the benefit of other units and concerned members of the community, Havering have submitted a plan of action of their latest Community Action venture. Read, Digest and Act.

CAMPAIGN STAGE 1.

[Activity 1] A question about the Battis alleyway, its problems and possible solutions was submitted to the council at the bi-monthly civics conference.

[Activity 2] A leaflet was posted in the area around the alleyway asking residents to write to the council demanding action. The week before the conference saw activists hand out further copies of the leaflet to commuters alighting from Romford station, especially those using Battis Way.

[Activity 3] Members and supporters were encouraged to send letters to the local press. Letters appeared in two separate papers before and after the conference.

CAMPAIGN STAGE 2.

The council claimed that the alleyway was the responsibility of British Rail and they would pass on the demands. A report on the conference, including a large piece on Havering's question, was included in the main local paper.

Letters Besides letters to the press, one was forwarded to British Rail and another to Chief Inspector Clack of Romford police asking for figures on the number of muggings etc occurring at Battis Way.

Petitions A petition has been drawn up to target three different sections of the community. Sheets were given to nurses, brewery workers and a representative of the local tenants association for circulation. Activists have also been knocking on tenants doors for signatures. This is the present stage of this particular campaign.

The next stage will be a presentation of the petition to BR, perhaps embellished with the crime figures. Up to date reports will be sent to the local press and demo's and further leaflets may also be used in the campaign.

Once you have become used to Community Action the appropriate tactics become second nature. An updated report will follow in a further issue of NFN.

FIGHT BACK FOR BRITAIN!

THE Metropolitan Police are trying to ban a traditional Remembrance Day parade. It involves a non-political march and religious service in memory of the dead of two World Wars, and it has always been totally peaceful. But the top-cops at New Scotland Yard want it stopped just because it is organized by the National Front.

Every year, on Remembrance Sunday, the National Front marches from Bressenden Place near London's Victoria Station to the Cenotaph in Whitehall. This route has been used for nearly 20 years without any great problems. Last year nearly 2,000 NF members and supporters from all over the British Isles marched with quiet dignity behind drums and a forest of Union and British national flags.

Shocked by this clear evidence of the growing NF strength, Labour party and Alliance spokesmen joined Tory M.P.s and the powerful Board of Deputies of British Jews in a call for the march to be banned in future.

The Home Office told them that the Home Secretary would be delighted to be able to ban the NF parade, but that he could not do so because the present Public Order Act does not give him the power to ban traditional marches or religious services.

So National Front officials who approached the police to confirm that the march would follow its usual route and format were shocked when Assistant Superintendent Jones of the A8 (Public Order) Department told them that this was "totally unacceptable to the police".

When two members of the NF's National Directorate visited New Scotland Yard to resolve this problem, they were called into a meeting with 15 of London's top-cops, including members of Special Branch - Britain's own political police.

Several of the officers present made great play of the recent failed attempted coup by a reactionary fraction of ex-NF leaders. Believing that this had left the movement weak and also lacking in confidence, they saw it as giving them the opportunity to bully the National Front away from its traditional assembly point and route.

When asked point blank why the usual arrangements were unacceptable, they came up with a string of silly non-reasons. They said that Bressenden Place had been booked up by some other organization immediately after last year's NF parade. They refused to name the group concerned, but if this was true the police were clearly in the wrong because the NF has a long tradition of assembling at this point and hundreds of supporters would turn up there even if the NF agreed to form up somewhere else. To allow anti-NF elements to gather there is a recipe for confrontation and violence.

REACTIONARY FRACTION

Another officer said that leaders of the reactionary Fraction were still claiming that they had the right to organize the march and that this was causing so much confusion that the event would have to be drastically cut. This was also nonsense, since the police had accepted a last minute change of organizer for the Albert Mariner march way back in May, and had had months of notice of the fact that they would be dealing with different people.

Finally, the police claimed that so many Communist counter-demonstrators would be turning up that they would be unable to protect the NF's peaceful and non-political march. The usual Establishment trick of using the threat of violence by a ragbag of Marxist trouble-makers as an excuse to ban perfectly legal activity by the National Front is well-known, and two things show that this was what was going on here.

First: the NF negotiators suggested an alternative route from Bressenden Place to the Cenotaph which would have completely avoided the provocative Red rabble.

One of the uniformed police officers at the meeting commented that this was a sensible alternative, but his plain-clothed boss snapped "no, that's just as bad". But since this solution would have taken the NF marchers away from even the possibility of any confrontation with extreme opponents, it is clear that what he meant was that a successful and peaceful parade would be politically good for the new NF leadership - "just as bad" as a march along the normal route.

Secondly, the NF negotiators pointed out that supporters arriving at Victoria and being sent as the police proposed to County Hall, would have to pass through Embankment tube station - which is the main station being used by the Reds. In other words, the police plan would guarantee confrontation!

There can be no doubt that the police attempt to impose these absurd restrictions on this traditional NF march is the result of POLITICAL decisions rather than genuine public order considerations. Faced with a highly successful NF activity which they cannot ban legally, they are trying instead to impose an effective ban through the illegal misuse of police powers.

The plain fact is that the police do NOT have the right to dictate where a march forms up. Neither do they or the Home Secretary have the power to ban traditional parades or religious services.

For this reason the National Front will continue to march to the Cenotaph each Remembrance Day. Any ban, whether "legal" or imposed by police violence, will be treated with the contempt it deserves. Whatever the provocation, we will uphold our rights, if necessary through civil disobedience. If the police want to stop the National Front from honouring the dead heroes of our Race and Nation, they will have to arrest every NF member and supporter.
